BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE PROJECT

Here is our project's detailed information regarding the INCOME TAX DEPARTMENT website. We have built a replica of the income tax department using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. This website which we have contains some primary information and structure of the website. The code which we've built gives some output such as a mainframe, login page, contacts, accessibility, about, and feedback. We've enabled the buttons and links using JavaScript. And given styling using CSS. This isn't the same as the main website but a rough design per the teacher's guidelines and instructions. Here below are some screenshots of the outputs.

      <h3>What is ITR?</h3>
      An Income tax return (ITR) is a form used to file information about your income and tax to the Income Tax Department. The tax liability of a taxpayer is calculated based on his or her income. In case the return shows that excess tax has been paid during a year, then the individual will be eligible to receive a tax refund from the Income Tax Department.
      As per the income tax laws, the return must be filed every year by an individual or business that earns any income during a financial year.

      <h4>Roti, Power aur Makaan: Indians have to spend less than residents in the US, UK and Germany - Here's how</h4> Cost of Living: if the household budget/cost of living was Rs 100 in September 2021 across all countries, it has now increased by Rs 12 in both US and India, but it has increased by Rs 20 in Germany and Rs 23 in UK.

CSE326 PROJECT

INCOME TAX DEPARTMENT

From food, shelter to fuel, Indians have to spend less on essentials compared to their counterparts in the US, UK and Germany, data from a report by SBI Research suggests. Interestingly, the per capita income of India has also jumped sharply in last 8 years.
